FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

16 APRIL 2018 - GDPR Portal, the cloud-based solution that provides small and medium-sized organisations with a cost-effective way to manage their compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), is pleased to announce that it has been selected by The Law Society of England and Wales as its endorsed partner for GDPR.

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) comes into effect on 25th May 2018. The Law Society has stated that the GDPR applies equally to law firms as it does to other data controllers and that member firms will be responsible for the actions of their employees and data they share with other parties. Many law firms, even if they have a theoretical understanding of the requirements of GDPR, may find it difficult to start the practical steps required for a successful GDPR compliance project.

GDPR Portal is a cloud-based solution that provides small and medium-sized organisations with a cost-effective way to manage their compliance with GDPR. The Law Society's technical experts have recognised that GDPR Portal's framework and functionality will be beneficial to member firms in tackling the challenge of preparing for GDPR.

Law Society president Joe Egan said: "We are very pleased to be able to endorse GDPR Portal for the provision of GDPR compliance services to law firms. Throughout the endorsement process, we have been consistently impressed with the quality and standards presented. The endorsement is designed to bring additional membership benefits and assists Law Society members in making informed choices when purchasing business or lifestyle services and products."

Ben Grey, the Founder of GDPR Portal added "We are delighted to be partnering with The Law Society to help its members comply with GDPR. GDPR Portal will provide them with a highly effective yet cost effective way to manage the compliance process."
